

on community centers- a local hangout

a 16 year old boys playing badminton and ping pong for weeks on end. it is ludicrous when you think that people come down here with a dislike ~~with~~^{of} american style society, and then apply american style solutions to problems and expect revolutionary results. "hurrah for us for having formed miss' gangs resembling in destructiveness and idleness the northern city gangs. the difference is that in most cases they do not dare tamper with white property, and still having a respect for their own family, have to find an object of their feelings the cofo facilities and people. today they pushed our war in the gutter, painted one of the girls' cats white, and stole yet another wallet. i wonder if fidel established community centers in the hills for his young friends.

there is msu, and i really don't know that. i just think that kids respond the best to things that demand the most of them. this has been my opinion with regard to schools, and to work in the movement. i think that if we demanded a quart of blood and 5 hours a day we would be flooded with applicants for the most difficult work we could find. if houston had been really knocking himself out for the movement, could he have ever said, "you can't kick us out because you're gonna need us again.
